My dear Sir:-

May I call your attention to the accompanying circular, which I hope you will consider favorably. We are very anxious that all collectors of Numismatics should be members of our Society. We have attractive and pleasantly located rooms, the finest Numismatic Library in this Country, and a large and varied collection of coins and medals.

Furthermore, the Society is doing an important work, and should be actively supported by all who are interested in the science.

Trusting that this will meet with your favorable consideration, I remain,

Yours very truly,

Henry Russell Drowne

Corresponding Secty.
